

PROFESSIONAL ORIENTATION AS AN INDISPENSABLE ELEMENT OF SCHOOL PROCESS

The question "What to do in future" is a vital question. Everybody knows that in childhood it is hard to find and decide what you want and who you want to be in future. In elementary school, where educational and cognitive activities are leading, it is important to expand pupils' ideas of different occupations. Some elements of the professional activities are still difficult for them to understand, but in every profession there is an area which can be presented on the basis of visual images, the specific situations of life, stories and with the help of experienced professionals. That is why it is very important to create the most diverse palette of experiences about the world of professions, and then, based on this material, the child is able to analyze the professional sphere which is more meaningful and so to feel more confident.

Every child is genetically endowed with certain abilities, predisposed to study some subjects more. In the future, these disciplines can be the basis of future profession. For a child to make a conscious choice in adult life it is necessary to introduce the maximum number of jobs, starting with the nearest environment, with people of familiar professions whose work children can watch every day.

There are lots of ways how to present information about professions to pupils (Power Point presentation, role-play games, conversations with invited experts, excursion into city's facilities and, of course, the easiest, watching and discussing videos). But we should consider that some kids could be shy or just wouldn't want to join the activities. In that case, you can ask parents to come in, on Saturday or just during the lessons, and speak about their occupation.

So it is obvious that special professionally oriented work should be carried out at school throughout the educational process. In this case it will be easy for children to make a career choice and be satisfied, prosperous and just happy all life long. What is more productive work and high proficiency will be beneficial for the welfare of the country.
